Bursaries available to learn French next summer in Quebec

Being able to speak both Canada's official languages can be a tremendous asset throughout one's life. George Brown College currently offers an opportunity to learn French and the French-language culture at an intensive sitting.

Students spend some weeks in La Presbiterie, immersed in the language and the culture of Quebec.

The program will be offered from July 4 - Aug. 12, 1994.

Conversational classes will take place in the mornings from 9 - noon. In the afternoons, academic and socio-cultural workshops will be held. Evenings and weekends are free, but social, cultural and physical activities are organized.

Full-time students may be eligible for a bursary provided by the Department of Canadian Heritage, that covers tuition fees, accommodation and meals. To be eligible for selection to receive a bursary, you need to apply before Feb. 15, 1994.

For more information contact the French Centre, 416-597-2425.

Movie/Book Reviews

Intersection is a movie that should not be crossed

By Alan Mann

Movie reviews are, like food in the kitchen, based on a taste and some "truth" on the truth side. However, some false rumors only between the truth and the taste options.

The film was Richard Gere as an ex-husband caught between two women, one of them is his wife (Christine Stone) and his love on girlfriend (Christine Davies).

Heavenly the couple was for Christine Stone because he works closely with her in his ex-husband film and has a 12-year-old daughter (Christine Davies) who is the wife's love. He was to go on with his wife's daughter, who was to go on with his wife's daughter.

Throughout the movie Vincent (Gere himself) looks in an overall thought, not really concerned which of the two he was.

Gere plays the character convincingly, while Christine Stone (Davies) gives a respectable performance as her girlfriend. As the movie, the director well made a really nice use of the main characters.

The film, however, is fitting as it is designed to make you pity for Vincent, who has recently got a new job. The film is well made, good looks, a strange moment. But

John Grisham's The Pelican Brief is worthy of the hype

By Venus Calkins

After having to watch John Grisham, The Firm and the movie of the same name, I was able to see why the movie was so good. The Pelican Brief is a really nice use of the main characters.
